

BREXIT: IMPLICATIONS FOR THE INSURANCE SECTOR

23 September 2016 | Europe
Legal Briefings

The House of Commons Treasury Select Committee (TSC) has launched an inquiry into EU regulation of insurance. The inquiry will allow the TSC to look at the case for retaining, losing or adapting Solvency II in a post-Brexit world. Its Chairman, Andrew Tyrie MP, has commented that Brexit provides an opportunity for the UK to "assume greater control of insurance regulation".

This inquiry will give firms and industry bodies perhaps their best opportunity to influence the future content of UK insurance regulation. We expect the industry will want to devote considerable effort to providing a full response to questions set out in the Terms of Reference for the inquiry (ToR). The possible endorsement by the TSC of views expressed by industry is likely to be particularly persuasive in future deliberations by the PRA.

Whilst there remains considerable uncertainty surrounding the UK's future relationship with the EEA, our latest "at a glance" guide identifies, in two pages, some of the key issues insurers may want to ensure are on the negotiating team's agenda. Many of the same issues are raised by the ToR.

In earlier briefings, we have considered the need for businesses to prepare for the UK's exit from the EU and the position for UK insurers accessing the EEA and EEA insurers accessing the UK. Please see:

In a further "at a glance" guide, we highlight some key issues raised by the UK's withdrawal from the EU for insurance intermediaries.
