05 December 2017 | London, Hong Kong
Webinars

Recording: Originally broadcast: 5 December 2017

In this webinar the panel discussed the unique challenges presented by companies which are held by a small circle of shareholders - be they family members or otherwise.

Drawing together specialists from our corporate, disputes and private wealth departments, we looked at a range of issues, including:

- common types of disputes which can arise
- common causes of those disputes
- preventative structuring options available to clients
- strategies for managing the transition to the next generation of owners.

Our presenters have practical experience of these issues and have advised a range of clients from around the world to achieve successful outcomes and have particular experience of acting in relation to issues emanating from across Europe, Asia and Russia.
