Our annual alumni magazine, Alumni Matters, celebrates the achievements of our people, both past and present.

In this issue, we explore the theme 'thinking differently' and have assembled a collection of features showcasing alumni who demonstrate par excellence in how their businesses and teams are pushing boundaries and continuing to innovate in exciting new ways.

Featured profiles include:

- Yoram Elkaim, alumnus and Head of Legal, EMEA for Google, talks to us about life and law at one of the global tech giants
- Alumna, Hilary Newiss, offers some practical advice for life after law and how to pursue a board role
- Alex Zolotarsky, Kate Layman, Ben Dennell and Andrea Conn: four antipodean alumni now innovating for Amazon in Seattle
- Kerry Stares, combining an interest in law with a passion for human rights as global head of legal for TrustLaw
