

ENERGY M&A

SHAPING THE FUTURE OF ENERGY SUPPLY

The often headline-grabbing global energy sector is subject to unceasing volatility, intense market pressures and regulatory controls. The market is more diverse than ever with new entrants, new deal techniques and new sources of finance.

Within this constantly evolving environment corporates are investing in growth opportunities, entering new markets, recycling capital and refocussing portfolios.

With more than 300 energy specialist lawyers, and with nearly all of our partners having been seconded into industry, we have a decades-long commitment to the oil & gas and power sectors. We combine industry knowledge and M&A expertise to work with clients to deliver successful outcomes with legal advice that is insightful, risk-focussed, market specific and cost-effective.
