

SHARED MOBILITY

MAXIMISING OPPORTUNITIES TOGETHER

Shared mobility is a wide-ranging term for the shared use of vehicles often with the intent of significant environmental and social benefits.

Increasing innovation and technological developments are rapidly influencing the sector in areas such as ride-sharing and traditional ride-hailing (taxis). It is inevitable that businesses will need to adapt to make the best out of opportunities and are able to re-act to the associated challenges and evolving regulatory landscapes encountered.

We work with clients on the key issues impacting this sector, in particular where the applicable law is out-dated and governments and regulators struggle to ensure that the applicable regimes keep pace with technological developments. Our advice ranges from providing a global outlook from a competition and trade perspective, to supporting on high level disputes, M&A and day to day compliance matters and to addressing specific local regulatory, employment and intellectual property considerations.
