

ISLAMIC FINANCE

The market for Islamic financial products is growing fast. Traditionally, Shari'ah compliant financings were the domain of Islamic banks as an effective fund-raising tool. However, as the products have become more sophisticated and accessible on a truly global platform, conventional banks and non-financial institutions are turning to the Islamic finance market as they look to diversify their investments and access alternative lending and revenue streams.

We help clients structure, negotiate and execute Islamic financing solutions for both investors and borrowers in accordance with the values and principals of Shari'ah law. Our on the ground presence, with expert support from across our global network, provides us with real insight of market trends and the challenges and opportunities our broad base of clients operating in the market face. Our strong relationships with the Shari'ah committees, leading local counsel and Islamic financial institutions ensures that we are at the cutting edge of the ever-evolving Islamic finance landscape.

Bringing together our deeply-embedded knowledge of conventional finance and our strong Islamic finance experience, we support our clients in navigating the intricacies of Shari'ah compliant financings, providing solutions on the most complex of transactions including Murabahah, Sukuk and Mudaraba.
