EXPERIENCE

Chloe is an Associate in the London Technology, Media & Telecommunications and Data team, with a particular focus on data privacy. Chloe advises UK, EU and global clients across all market sectors on all aspects of European data protection law, including international data transfers, data sharing arrangements, internal and external policy creation and implementation and strategic management of regulatory investigations and security breach notification procedures.

Chloe's experience includes advising:

- a provider of biometric identity verification and authentication services on their GDPR and UK GDPR compliance programme.

- a digital audio joint venture on the data protection aspects of its Adtech ecosystem.
- an international healthcare provider on its data processing arrangements and related commercial contract issues.
- various clients in relation to personal data breaches and regulatory investigations before the UK Information Commissioner's Office.
