EXPERIENCE

Jerome specialises in international arbitration and public international law. He is based in London and has previously spent time in our Paris office and on secondment to a client in the energy sector.

Jerome has experience acting for clients in international disputes under various arbitration rules such as ICC, LCIA, UNCITRAL and ICSID, as well as in arbitration-related proceedings before the English High Court.

Jerome's experience includes advising:

- Nord Stream 2 AG in an ongoing claim against the European Union under the Energy Charter Treaty. This claim, which relates to the impact of new European Union legislation on a major gas pipeline, is the first investment arbitration brought against the European Union
- ACP Axos in ICSID proceedings brought against the Republic of Kosovo relating to the cancellation of the privatisation of part of the telecommunications sector
- a US healthcare company in ICC arbitration proceedings arising out of an M&A transaction
- two joint venture parties in a dispute with a state and a state-owned company relating to the withdrawal from an oil field in Yemen
- a multinational defence and aerospace group in a London-seated LCIA arbitration brought by a former employee of a subsidiary pursuant to a guarantee given by the parent company
