EXPERIENCE

Maura provides technical advice to clients and colleagues on issues of both substantive law and court procedure. A general commercial litigator by background, her particular areas of interest include privilege, costs and funding issues, class actions, contract law and conflict of laws.

Maura is an editor of the firm's 'Litigation notes' blog and also edits the firm's online privilege and jurisdiction materials and its contract disputes practical guides series. She has been a member of a number of Civil Justice Council working groups, including in relation to damages-based agreements and concurrent expert evidence. Maura is one of the general editors and co-authors of Class Actions in England and Wales (Sweet & Maxwell, 2018). She is also an editor of the 'White Book' (Civil Procedure, Sweet & Maxwell) in relation to conflicts of laws.
