EXPERIENCE

Rebecca acts in arbitrations under various institutional rules (including HKIAC, SIAC, ICC, AIAC) as well as ad hoc arbitrations. She has advised multinational clients on cross-border disputes across a range of industry sectors, with particular focus in the energy and hospitality sectors. Her experience includes multi-jurisdictional investigations and compliance advisory.

Rebecca serves on the Commercial Arbitration Committee at the Young Practitioner Group of Asian International Arbitration Centre.

As a member of the firm's Asia Pro Bono team, Rebecca advocates for systemic change, bringing together cross-sector stakeholders to achieve tangible outcomes for disadvantaged communities.

Her recent experience includes:

- representing 11 respondents which are subsidiaries of two private equity investment firms in a bilingual (Chinese & English) HKIAC emergency arbitration in relation to a shareholders' disputes in respect of an e-commerce business operating principally in the PRC market
- representing a leading luxury hotel chain in a bilingual (Chinese & English) UNCITRAL arbitration concerning disputes arising out of a hotel management agreement involving a hotel located in China
- advising a Chinese state-owned engineering company contractor in relation to its EPC contract to construct a beneficiation plant in Saudi Arabia, providing full project lifecycle advice, and support in the preparation and negotiation of claims
- advising a multinational pharmaceutical and healthcare corporation and conducting internal investigations into compliance breaches at its Asia subsidiaries and service providers
- defending regulatory enforcement proceedings against a global investment bank for alleged due diligence failings in their role on IPOs
