EXPERIENCE

Silke has over 15 years' experience of working in the energy sector, advising clients in relation to gas, power and climate change issues internationally.

Silke also advises clients on all aspects of European and UK energy law and regulations, including unbundling issues, REMIT, MIFID (II), EMIR, and European network codes. She has long standing experience in electricity and gas trading arrangements and has advised interconnectors and other transmission and distribution system operators.

Silke has advised:

- a number of investors in relation to investments in German and English offshore wind farms
- DONG Energy in relation to its successful bid for three sites in France's first offshore wind tender round with a total capacity of 1500MW, including the joint venture agreement with EDF Energies Nouvelles, supply agreements with Alstom and other parties to the tender
- a European utility in relation to its energy and EU ETS trading strategy
- EDF on its 50/50 joint venture with Delta, the Dutch energy company, to develop an 870 MW gas-fired power project in the Netherlands including the tolling and gas procurement agreements and EUA arrangements
- Eni in relation to its bid for an interest in a European utility; and a restructuring of its European gas sale and purchase arrangements with Distrigas
