EXPERIENCE

Craig leads our international arbitration group in London. He also has extensive experience in litigation, expert determination and mediation with a particular focus on disputes in the energy, leisure, construction, engineering, defence and telecommunications industries. His practice comprises multi-jurisdictional work subject to a wide range of governing laws.

Craig has acted in arbitrations as counsel, advocate and arbitrator in ad hoc proceedings and before all of the major arbitral institutions, including, in particular the International Chamber of Commerce (ICC), London Court of International Arbitration (LCIA) and the American Arbitration Association (AAA). He has also acted in complex litigation cases before the English High Court (including the Queen's Bench, the Commercial Court, and the Technology and Construction Court) and the Court of Appeal.

Fluent in Arabic and French, Craig is frequently instructed in disputes arising from investments, projects and transactions in Africa and the Middle East.

Craig is regularly published on issues relating to private international law, arbitration and energy disputes, and lectures on energy law at the University of London. He has also been appointed in expert determination proceedings as an expert in English law.

Craig's recent experience includes acting for:

- a consortium of leading multinational energy companies in UNCITRAL arbitration and expert determination proceedings against a Central Asian Republic. The case concerned budget and schedule disputes worth US$ 9 billion in a high-profile and politically significant dispute concerning one of the world's largest oil and gas projects
- Multinational energy clients on fiscal disputes worth several billion dollars arising from the intervention of the Ministry of Finance in offshore PSA interests in a West African State
- BP on contentious issues in contract and in tort, and in multiple jurisdictions and fora including the UK inquest proceedings, arising from the terrorist incident at the In Amenas gas facility in Algeria between 16-19 January 2013
- Stagecoach plc in its successful £100 million Rail Industry Dispute Resolution arbitration against the UK Government, and in the successful defence of ancillary jurisdictional applications brought by the Secretary of State in the English Commercial Court in disputes concerning the South West Trains franchise in England
- a multinational energy company on disputes with the Iraqi state and SOC concerning the imposition of environmental fines, tax and other value-extractive measures, in breach of the applicable Technical Services Contract and investment treaty protections
- a major American defence manufacturer in American Arbitration Association proceedings relating to unpaid contractual royalty payments valued in excess of $300 million and involving separate jurisdictional, liability and quantum proceedings
- a multinational trading company in a US$150 million ICC arbitration concerning the impact of compulsory price renegotiation through governmental regulation in the Indonesian coal industry, giving rise to complex issues of force majeure, contractual and common law termination rights, and the quantification of damages using the loss methodology
- a multinational energy company in complex cost overrun and delay disputes worth more than US$1 billion relating to energy projects in Iran (onshore and offshore) and subject to ICC arbitration and Iranian law

- as an expert in English law in an expert determination between two multinational energy companies concerning the proper construction of the cost recovery procedures in a joint operating agreement relating to hydrocarbon exploration and production offshore from the Philippines
- a multinational energy company in a drilling rig dispute offshore The Falkland Islands valued in excess of US$100 million
- a leading international law firm in an LCIA arbitration relating to its advice in an Islamic finance transaction, and in which significant reputational issues were at stake for our client
- advising a group of international investors in an ICC arbitration concerning the Indian telecommunications market, in the context of a series of multi-party, multi-claim arbitrations against a background of ongoing litigation in New York and India
- a multinational energy company in an ICC arbitration concerning performance issues at a US$700 million energy facility in Algeria subject to Algerian law
