EXPERIENCE

Fluent in English, Mandarin and Cantonese, Jojo has a broad commercial litigation practice and has acted in court proceedings involving injunctive measures and arbitration-related matters.

Jojo specialises in providing advice on contentious issues facing Chinese and international financial services providers. She has extensive experience in complex financial disputes about mis-selling, unauthorised trading and enforcement of security. She has also represented financial services clients in a wide range of regulatory inquiries/investigations, disciplinary enforcement proceedings and civil proceedings in the High Court.

Jojo had spent 6 months on secondment at UBS AG (Hong Kong Branch) as the Bank's Head of Anti-Bribery and Corruption in Asia Pacific, a role with local, regional and global responsibilities. During her secondment, she interacted with front office business, and litigation and compliance teams across Asia.

In addition, she has helped clients across a wide range of industries with company and commercial disputes, contract and tort claims, and boardroom and shareholder claims. Her clients include state-owned PRC companies, global manufacturers, major international corporations and Hong Kong listed companies.
